Demand & PMA Service

On-demand 24/7 service provide emergency maintenance support in the event of an unexpected breakdown. Preventative maintenance programs maximize the life of your security equipment and keep your operations running with minimal disruptions.

Process. Standards. Simplification.

Our methodology of offering consistent and standardized service, also applies to projects. Our goals are always to deliver the solution on time and under budget, integrating the standards for security, life safety and procurement practices of the client.

PROJECT SCOPE

All projects begin with deep discussions with clients to determine the issues that need to be resolved, impacts to operations, and cost considerations. A framework of critical factors is developed.

DESIGN AND IMPLEMENTATION PLANNING

Once a solution has been decided upon, Gunnebo's in-house experts work closely with client personnel on the final design.

Our project management team then works to develop an implementation plan that meets client objectives, while minimizing disruption to their operations and security.

DEPLOYMENT

Installation proceeds according to the deployment plan, with routine progress reports provided to the client.

SOLUTIONS EXPLORATION

Potential solutions are explored and measured against the frame work of the project scope.

Depending on the nature of the solution, field trials and pilots are often undertaken to test solutions precisely and a solution will meet client objectives.

TRAINING

Any training requirements are addressed to ensure deployment and adoption processes are smooth.

This critical step also reduces operational disruptions for clients while maximizing their return on investment.

PROJECT COMPLETION

With the project complete, focus turns to ongoing service and maintenance, as required.

Ongoing training and support are provided for new client personnel.

PROCESS

Our clean and precise approach to projects, reduces management costs for client while maintaining high visibility of project milestones

STANDARDIZATION

Standardization in our project approach, results in implementations that are predictable and consistent.

SIMPLIFICATION

With centralized billing and a single point of contact, implementing national projects becomes simple for clients, saving them time and money.

GUNNEBO employs over 4,600 employees world wide. Operating from 14 offices across Canada, GUNNEBO Canada, with a staff of 200+ trained professionals, fields over 70,000 service calls per year and manages some of the largest security projects in the country.

GUNNEBO Canada has been protecting people, property and assets in Canada for over 60 years. Founded in 1954, as part of Chubb Security, our focus has always been to exceed our clients expectations at every opportunity, and that client focus is still at the core of everything we do today.

That client centric approach has helped us to grow into the nation's largest provider of physical security solutions, and the largest Medeco Security Centre in the country. With branches in major cities, from coast to coast, Gunnebo employs over 100 technicians and locksmiths across Canada, and through our 24 hour in-house call centre and national dispatch team, we manage over 70,000 service calls every year.

In 2001, we became part of the GUNNEBO Group and adopted the GUNNEBO name. Based in Sweden, the GUNNEBO Group is a globally recognized provider of security products, services and solutions, with manufacturing operations and offices in 25 countries, and our products and solutions are found in virtually every corner of the globe.

In close partnerships with manufacturers like Medeco and ASSA ABLOY, GUNNEBO Canada offers the widest range of solutions to our clients, backed by industry leading expertise and the strongest service and support in the industry.

Our clients include all levels of government, financial institutions including three of the five major banks, national retailers, transit authorities and airports, and utilities and industrials.

As a security partner, our goal is always to provide our clients with the greatest degree of control over their security, and we strive to ensure our clients have all the resources needed to make informed decisions and manage their security and safety seamlessly.
